Commodore's Report

Tim Amy

The editorial

in the March edition of '48* North' sailing magazine notes that, across North America, boating or yacht clubs used to be family places where kids absorbed the boating life and perpetuated their club. It notes that today, boat/yacht clubs are inhabited and perpetuated primarily by the older, grey haired folks. This is a familiar theme in much of the boating world; Canadian Power and Sail Squadron reports the aging of its membership; marine surveyors are having increasing difficulty climbing into small spaces on board vessels and even greater difficulty climbing out.

You will be happy to note that this is not the case at VYC where only four of your executive have grey hair. And these four tend to be some of the Club's most progressive thinkers.

Which brings us to the subject of The Commodore's Ball and Sail Past. Yacht clubs traditionally hold these annual events as a means of bringing the members together to celebrate the existence of their organization and as an expression of solidarity with the Club's volunteer executive members. These events have roots in the Royal Naval Reviews dating to the 1700s and in more recent times, the formal and posh social occasions of large yacht clubs frequented by the rich and famous during the late 1800s and early 1900s.

The Vernon Yacht Club has held a Commodore's Ball annually since the early 1950s with members bringing their boats out for the Sail Past the following day. This year's celebration will be a one day event, with the Commodore's Social buffet brunch during the morning of Saturday May 8, the members Sail Past in the afternoon. Dress for the day can be casual boating attire of your choice.

We are a boating organization and have invited Tom Lewis, a very talented professional entertainer, to bring us a morning of sea shanties and maritime stories. Tom served in the Royal Navy, traveling below the waves for many years, and now travels the world above water playing and singing. (see poster in this newsletter or on line at tom@lewis.net)

You have always wanted to know about Pollywogs and Shellbacks! Who is Mother Carey and does she in fact have chickens and what does Davey Jones keep in his locker ? Tom is the man to ask. May 8 is your chance to find out.

And also for your enjoyment, members Casey and Hanny Kooyman have arranged for 40 members of the Salmon Arm Community Band to play prior to the 2 pm Sail Past. From a location near the club flag pole this group will blow you away with such favourites as Honky Tonk Ragtime, Moonlight Serenade, Copacabana and others.

And for those of you with dual addictions, you can be boating at 2 pm and golfing at 5 pm. Honour your club on Saturday, your Mummy on Sunday.

Vice Commodore's Report

Steve Bertram

boating season is officially upon us, and I for one am particularly excited! After a mild winter and an early Spring, it seems as if we're going to get an extended boating season this year...provided we don't get smoked out this summer from any late-summer forest fires! Nevertheless, here's hoping for a good boating season!

On another note, kudos to Ron Heuman and his security team for keeping a good eye on all our boats so far this year. Thanks to him & his team, security has been vigilant and incidents have been kept to a minimum. If you see Ron or one of his security team on the docks after dark, (or whenever!) please make sure you thank them for their efforts!

Make sure that you get out to enjoy a different type of Commodore's Social this month. This year's event promises to be something different than previous years and possibly a bit less formal. And don't forget that Mother's Day is the next day!

Have a safe and happy boating month, and don't forget to check out new boating photos and news on our VYC Facebook page too!

*Regards
Steve Bertram*

Rear Commodore's Report

Spring

is here and a brand new season is starting with a bang. We have completed the repairs to the East, North and west breakwaters. As well the new pump out is in place and operational soon. We have also completed some necessary electrical upgrades to the club house and dock area and installed a pop machine for the use of the members. Crane day has taken place on the 10th and most of the boats should be back in the water. We are hoping for a good turn out for the clean-up day on the 17th, please do what you can to put aside an hour or two to help out.

Thanks again and happy sailing/boating,

Lawrence

Fleet Captain's Report

Bob Montguire

the water level in the lake is extremely low the Crane Day went very smoothly. We placed 19 boats in the water, one on a trailer and lifted two out of the lake. My thanks to those people who stuck around the whole morning to help their fellow members. I will not list names as I might offend someone by missing theirs. You know who you are and again thank you for all your help.

As I am writing this report on April 14th it is a beautiful sunny day. Hope it sticks around for clean-up on the 17th.

The Boat Show is coming up on the 24th and 25th. It can be a lot of fun and if you have not participated before I hope you volunteer this year. The old cliché many hands make light work has never been truer.

Bob

Staff Captain's Report

Rick Reichelt

Hello to you all,

We have booked our first two private functions, hopefully more to come as we can use all the revenue we can get.

Plans are well under way for the commodore's social; our commodore has gone in a new direction and I think it will be a great day. (May 8th) Hope to see you all there.

We are advertising for a bar manager to oversee all aspects of the clubhouse. We are hoping that this along with some changes to the appearance of the clubhouse will create renewed interest in having our membership spend more time and money at the club. Ken Smith has ordered new patio furniture which should give our deck a whole new look.

Bringing Two Passions Together

On the occasion of the Commandore's Social on Saturday, May 8, 2010, people will come together as one community to celebrate joy in boating and camaraderie through music, whether it be a sea shanty from long ago, or "Copacabana" performed by the Salmon Arm Community Band.

At 1:00pm this band will liven the lake breezes with music such as Chanson d'Amour, Honky Tonk Ragtime, Moonlight Serenade and a number of other well-known shoulder swaying, tune humming favorites.

This concert band originated 14 years ago with 9 members under the leadership of Cees and Hanny Kooyman, fellow members of the Vernon Yacht Club and active in "building community" through their excellence in editing and circulating our beloved "Tiller Topics". This band now numbers 55 players of instruments that incorporate woodwinds, brass, and percussion.

What is our connection between boating and music you ask? The key ingredient is passion ~ those dedicated volunteers whose initiative, hard work, creative endeavors, and commitment creates organizations that enrich a community for all".

Don't miss this wonderful opportunity to become part of the experience of "Bringing Two Passions Together": You just might get hooked into loving it too!

Messing About in Boats

by
Dave Atkins

This is the Month when the weather gets warmer and it may even get hot, and thoughts turn to getting back on the water for some fun. Some hardy young people figure that they should be able to go swimming on the May 24th weekend, but I think that most people like to wait a little longer. However most of the boaters are starting to get out on the water and enjoy the great opportunities that the lakes offer us.

When we go and play on the water we mostly don't think of PFDs or Life Jackets. I know people put on a flotation vest to go water skiing, but generally take it off when they get back in the boat, or give it to the next skier, thinking that the danger from the water no longer exists once they are back in the boat.

I read recently that there is a move to make it compulsory to WEAR life jackets in boats under 6 meters, that is just under 20ft. That would include a large number of run-abouts that we see on the lake, generally filled with a number of people wearing the minimum of clothing, let alone life jackets. This ruling is backed up by the statistics which show that most drownings occur from boats under 6 meters. Of course, you say, but that wouldn't happen on Okanagan

Lake in the summer when its warm enough to swim ashore. Wrong.

Drowning can happen very suddenly when you fall into the water unexpectedly. The body has a shock response that causes you to gasp for air as you hit the water, if your mouth is under when that happens, you can gasp in a half liter of water which is enough to flood your lungs and kill you!!!. If you have put on your PFD it is most likely that you will not submerge enough to have your face in the water, so that when you gasp you will take in AIR. Remember playing in the water may be fun but we are not designed to live in the water and just because you can swim like a fish doesn't mean that you can live like one as well.

Think about it when someone tells you to put on a life jacket and you reply "I wouldn't be seen dead in one of those things" you will probably be right.

On the Water Front

by Dan Irvin

Well here we are on the countdown to Boat Show 21. By the time you read this there will be only a few days left and things are falling into place nicely. Exhibitor sales have slightly surpassed last year so the nail biting part of organizing the show is over and we can get down to the logistics. Support from VYC members has been awesome as usual and big thanks go out to everyone who has bailed in so far but especially to the individuals that have taken on a specific portfolio.

Rob Ladan robladan@shaw.ca has done his usual efficient job at whipping the transportation sector into shape. Email Rob if you want to help out there. MJ Watson is hard at work making sure the Pirate's can cook up a storm. If this is where your heart lies then email MJ mary_wat@telus.net that's maryUNDERSCORE-wat@telus.net. Pam St Pierre pam-ela.stp@gmail.com will make sure she finds you a place in the nerve center of the whole operation, the VYC tent. Rick Reichelt probably doesn't need any help making sure we have OK Springs onsite but he deserves a big thanks for making sure it happens. Thanks to those of you who have volunteered to be there at Friday set-up and Sunday teardown. Many hands do indeed make light work and the more the merrier is the order of the day there. dan@danirvine.ca to let me know you'll be there for that. See you at the Boat Show.

All Pumped Up!

I'm sure we have all seen them standing there. The dazed and confused looks as they stared at the pump that didn't, the angry and frustrated comments as they listened to the last seconds of their last loonie tick away. I'm talking of course about all those with less than a masters degree in mechanical engineering that ended up in a toe to toe with "ol' vaporlock" our former pumpout dock fixture. Ol' vaporlock and I went a few rounds on a few occasions and I'm sad to say I ended last year about 1 for 3, and down about a roll and a half of loonies. And this was just a porta pottie. Should have been just a light workout for ol' vape but no, like an aging star that knew it was his last title defence he chose to hit below the belt every chance he got. Well all good things must come to an end and this is no different. Anybody who has been out to D dock recently will have noticed the gleaming white housing of our new pump sitting there. It just looks efficient all self contained in it's custom enclosure and waiting for it's first customer. The plumber and electrician have worked their magic and by the time you read this our newest addition to the marina infrastructure will be securely bolted down and ready to give you an uplifting experience. Now I know a big job like this is just ripe with opportunities for low key humour but job number one was sitting that baby down there. Number two is up to you.

Water Water Everywhere

It kind of makes you think OK maybe that's not what Samuel Taylor Coleridge wrote in Rime Of The Ancient Mariner but if he were here in this valley today he might work that line into his famous poem. You can't open the paper these days, or hardly turn a page when you do, without being faced with reporting of some water issue or other. We see it everywhere we look but what are we really looking at? How much do we know about the reserves and capacities that exist in this little valley. Certainly there have been some shockers like the polluted municipal well in Coldstream this winter that have put water into front of mind awareness, where it belongs, but how many of us have really made any adjustment to our own water usage on a day to day basis. The statistic being batted about lately is that Vernonites use about double the national average. That seems unbelievably high to me but somebody must have figured it out. As we face down the prospect of stage three water restrictions so early in the season it is something I will be researching, and writing about in future Tiller Topics. While far from being a "green elite" as someone painted those who speak out, I do think there is a little part for each of us to play in the conservation and preservation drama that unfolds before us each day. Watch this space for thoughts on the little things that collectively can make a big difference.

As always if you have ideas for future columns or have questions in general about our moorage basin it's dan@danirvine.ca

NOSA News

Neighbors

Hi, allow me to introduce myself. I'm Cap'n John the Commodore of NOSA, the small boat sailing club on the other side of paddlewheel park. Your editor has asked me to write a few words about NOSA and what we're up to.

NOSA is unusual in that we are the only sailing club in the valley that has club owned boats that the members can use. We had our startup weekend April 17th to clean up from the ravages of winter and ready all of the club boats for the sailing season. Those who own their own boats were also readying them for the season.

We start our evening racing program on May 13. We race on Thursday evening with the first flag promptly at 6:15. If you have a small boat and would like to join us we'd love the company.

The final thing I should note about NOSA is that we run a sailing school all summer out of our facilities. We provide 3 day learn to sail camps for youth Wednesday to Friday in July and August. We also provide adult learn to sail programs Thursday and Friday evenings plus all day Saturday and Sunday. If you or someone you know would like to brush up on your sailing skills there is no better way to learn than on our small boats.

If you'd like any more information you can look up the club web site and newsletter at <http://www.nosa.bc.ca/cal.html> or you can contact me at holmwood@shaw.ca

Until next time, enjoy your time on the water.

Cap'n John

Security Team fills Crew-List

have enthusiastically embraced the VYC Security Team program. To date over 35 members have joined the team to provide on-site surveillance at our Club at strategically scheduled times. Members commit to at least one three hour shift per month generally at times when the Club is not open or frequented by members doing boating activities. Since inception last year, the program continues to be highly successful.

During March Team members put in 87 hours of surveillance completing 29 shifts. No unusual activity was reported, nor did any members report any damage or intrusion to their boating investment. A good month indeed. It shows that both members of the Security Team and all VYC members are making a positive impact in providing a deterrence to would-be intruders. Please keep up the good work of being vigilant at our Club. You are making a difference!

Hypnosis Entertainment by Troy Mitchell

Troy's website reads:

"Troy's incredible 2 hour show will wow your audience and leave them asking for more! Members from the audience will volunteer to participate in the hypnosis induction and you will be amazed! Participants who undergo hypnosis gain huge benefits and learn to lose their inhibitions."

This is highly entertaining for the audience and a powerful learning tool. Audience members and those hypnotized will feel more freedom and clarity in how they want to change their lives. Troy's show is more enlightening than other hypnosis shows in that he shares the science of how his practices work and authenticates this with demonstrations with audience members. People who have attended Troy's shows are highly entertained and leave feeling inspired and alive.

It was already entertaining to watch the video clip on the web-page. Imagine how it will be at VYC May 15th. Life performance at the Annual Rib-Off. (after the meal)
