COMMODORE'S REPORT

Mike Thomas

Greetings All,

I know the official date for the first day of Spring was March 21st, but now I know it must be Spring because our annual boat sling day other wise known as Crane Day, has taken place and thanks to our participating members and our Fleet Captain, it all happened without a hitch. Our main parking lot is virtually clear and will soon be ready for the Boat Show on the first weekend in May. Tom and Janet McKenzie are doing a great job of organizing the Boat Show but it is a big job and they still need a few volunteers to help out. In most cases, we are just asking for two hours or so of your time so please give them a call at [250] 541-0321 and your offer will be gratefully acknowledged.

Betty, our Staff Captain is under the weather right now so I have asked Captain Rick, our bar and kitchen manager to submit a report on her behalf. You can read his submission further on in this issue. Captain Rick did mention that we will be having a special Mother's Day Brunch on Sunday May 13th, so be sure to give Mom a break and join us on that special day. Of course, children are welcome to attend as well.

That's it for now.

Happy boating and we'll see you at the Club.

Regards,

Mike.

Safe Boating Week

May 26—June 1st

Safe Boating is everyone's responsibility and a year long process.

Chilling Facts of Cold Water

Hypothermia. Say it out loud and it's an unpleasant sounding word.

But it has a simple meaning. It's when the core of your body drops to abnormally low body temperatures and if it goes too low and for too long eventually your heart can stop.

Many Canadian boaters are aware of hypothermia but most are not aware that it is the 'final stage' your body reaches after being in cold water. Many people die during the first few minutes of immersion in cold water and they are not hypothermic, they simply drown due to the immediate, involuntary and often deadly effects of cold water.

If you accidentally tumble into cold water, the initial cold shock will make you gasp and if you are underwater you can breath in about a litre of water. If you are on the surface, your heart rate can skyrocket, your breathing will be uncontrolled and increase as much 600 to 1000 percent. You can expect panic to set in as well. For most, this initial shock will last about a minute and then the breathing will slowly come back under control.

Depending on the water temperature, over the next ten minutes or so you will experience Cold Incapacitation. As your body struggles to preserve its core temperature your limbs will become numb and your ability to self rescue or even simply continue to swim will become impaired. In cold water without a lifejacket, you will eventually become so incapacitated that you can no longer stay afloat.

If you do have a lifejacket on and have not been able to rescue yourself, even in the coldest water, you can expect to be conscious for about an hour and it will still be some time before you succumb to hypothermia. This will give rescuers plenty of additional time to find and rescue you.

There is one simple preventative measure that anyone can take to avoid drowning in cold water and to keep you floating if you become hypothermic. Wear your lifejacket. It guarantees that you will float, especially in those first critical minutes when just trying to catch your breath and figure out how to rescue yourself.

April 10, 2012

- Bob Montguire of the Coast Guard Auxiliary gave a verbal presentation. He stated that the intent of the Auxiliary Coast Guard is to help boaters ensure they have the proper equipment. - Ms. Alenna Cameron of Tobram Electrical Supply was invited to give a presentation about a B.C. Hydro rebate program which is designed to encourage an energy efficient up-grade for the lighting at our Club. The club will go ahead with changing bulbs and necessary fixtures. There will be an estimated annual savings of $2540/year on hydro.
- The Club will purchase a VHF Radio for the Club Boat.
- A discussion was held regarding cameras being installed along the Paddlewheel Park side of the fence. There was vandalism to Lawrence's boat while being stored for winter.

Messing About in Boats

by
Dave Atkins

When I started this column I gave it a title that I thought was appropriate for my favorite pastime. I have been "messing about in boats" since I was a teenager in Britain just after the War ended. We used to ride our bikes a few miles to a local reservoir and rent a rowboat for an hour or so and just spend our time exploring the shore line, having races and just generally messing about. I think that this is what Kenneth Graham was referring to in "Wind in the Willows". It was a different time. There were no easily accessible fast powerboats, and sailboats were for the rich. These thoughts came to me as I was cleaning up and preparing my sailboat for another season. How our boating has changed!!! Technology has advanced so fast that boating is not just pottering around for a relaxing few hours. I rarely see anyone rowing a boat on the Lake and canoeing has become 'paddling' and is considered an athletic sport or competition.

These changes have affected other boating activities as well. Canadian Power and Sail Squadron was formed in the days when people with power boats big enough to go cruising joined together and developed competitions for 'Predicted Log Racing'. It wasn't really a race but an exercise in navigation, preferably in tidal waters. The skipper worked out a course and speed ahead of time and followed his course, without a clock, and the one to finish the course closest to the predicted time was the winner. This common interest in navigation was the backbone of CPS. Now CPS is wondering why the membership is declining and and their boating classes are not attracting many students anymore. Navigation is being done by GPS and chart-plotters and other electronic instruments, which tend to relegate the obligatory paper charts to the chart drawer. The paper charts are only used in emergencies, that is if the captain knows how to read them and plot a course by hand!!

Last month I was talking about Collision Regulations and how the changing times have moved recreational boating out of relevance with the shipping rules that were drawn up for commercial traffic. We still have to obey the rules but they seem less relevant to the young fellow who has just bought his first water ski boat with its massive horsepower, or to the fly fisherman who has an electric motor to move easily around the mountain lake.

Messing About in Boats has changed a great deal in the last 50-60 years, however it still seems to have a fascination for many people and we have to adapt to the times. I am sure that with the discoveries of new materials, more efficient motors, and even more sophisticated electronics we will see 'progress' but there is still a fascination with boats and the water and the apparent freedom and relaxation that they provide.

Boating Bulletin: Vessel Licenses

Up until now we have always advised boaters that they can license their vessels through any Service Canada office. Well things have changed. Boat licenses are no longer processed through Service Canada. One may still get vessel license application forms at Service Canada offices, but the forms and supporting documents (copies of personal I.D., bill of sale etc.) have to be mailed postal service) for processing to:

Sailing Fleet News

by Bob McDonell

Spring is upon us and the sailing season has begun!

Crane day was the official start to our sail racing season as well as the opportunity to enjoy Okanagan Lake and all of the weather it sends our way.

Racing days began on April 18th and will carry through till the end of October. We will see windy, rainy spring days, summer thermals, and lazy fall drifters. They all contribute to why we enjoy this lake and our days spent sailing.

For anyone interested in joining us for the Wednesday evening races, either sailing your own boat or with one of our other members, come down to the Club on Wednesday evening between 5:30 and 6 and ask anyone headed down to the docks how to get involved. You can also contact me or sign up at the clubhouse. There are competitive fleets of experienced sailors, as well as a more relaxed fleet for those just getting started. We also plan to provide some 'mentoring' for anyone new to sailing or racing.

Also on our agenda is to offer the sailing lessons that have been popular in the past. Help in getting this moving is appreciated and we need experienced help from instructors as well as 'on the water' coaches.

For any skippers wishing to race this season that have not signed up and paid their dues, please contact Marnie at the office and get on the list.

Looking forward to another season of sailing in every kind of weather and much camaraderie on the lake and at the Club.

May... Hockey continues.... Will the geese reign? .... More Security Vigilance

By Ron Heuman

Boats are in the water. May has arrived yet hockey dominates when we should be thinking of flowers and gardens. And, take a look at the Osprey nest on our VYC nesting pole, the Canadian Goose reigns. Question is, for how long? And, how will the goslings reach the water?

Happily, we welcome a new boating season lead off by our Annual Boat Show. Nevertheless, members must become aware of the risks associated with the interest of undesirable persons, with thoughts of vandalism and intrusion. VYC security should be an ongoing concern of all members to protect our Club and personal property. The VYC Security Team is one link in this protection chain. The other is the vigilance of all members while at the Club. We have filed one incident over the winter months. Will there be more? Only time will tell. However, our goal is zero incidents at our Club. Of course this may sound as nit picking but if you are the victim, think of how you could have prevented the event.

While at your Yacht Club, be aware of unknown persons, we always need more VYC Security Vigilance by all members.

Marine Boat & Engine Maintenance The enjoyment of the boat includes the satisfaction of properly maintaining it. To many boaters, working on their boat is part of the fun, to say nothing of the savings in costs. All boats require maintenance to correct the gradual wear and tear, and exposure to the elements. A boater should be on the alert for signs of potential problems, and make repairs while the problems are minor. # CAPTAINS' CARE CLUB

WELCOME to spring!!!!

I want to remind all members, new and old, that the Captains Care Club is a club within our club that raises money for you, the member. This money is used for anything that you see fit for improvements to our club. How this is spent is decided by the members, approved by the executive, but is not part of the annual VYC budget.

In the past, the Captains Care Club has purchased a new flat screen TV and patio tables which the members at that time felt we should have.

If you have any ideas or requests please contact me.

Saturday May 26 is our annual Rib Off which supports the Captain Care Club!! $20 + HST for dinner and musical entertainment.

Mark this date down. We always sell out early, so make sure you get your tickets soon!
